Ethical Policy

The editorial board of Journal Fahm-i-islam is determined to verify on behalf of its self and of all other co-authors that the manuscripts that have been submitted to Fahm-i-Islam is our original work, Furthermore the Board will abide by the Higher Education commission's Ethical Guidelines regarding Ethical Policy.

Author/s Name

Journal Fahm-i-Islam is being published under the auspices of the competent editorial board duly advised and guided by the concerned advisory boards regarding all printing rules and Ethical Policies. Redundant manuscripts involve the inappropriate division of study outcomes into several articles, hence the same material is rejected with a request to the authors concerned to carry out the required corrections in their articles.

The Editorial Board of the journal is responsible for deciding which of the articles duly received so far, should be published on the basis of their blind peer-review reports. The editors of the journal very cautiously examine the contents of the manuscripts exclusively on the basis of their academic merits. However, they have the right to exclude any material that breaks legal requirements regarding libel, copyright infringement and plagiarism. The editors are also responsible for ensuring the confidentiality of the submitted works until they are published, except in the case of suspicion of multiple submissions. In case, it is decided not to publish a material, the manuscript is never used for any other purpose without expressed written consent of the author.

The reviewers of Islamic Studies dept (WUM) assist the editors in taking the decision of publishing submitted manuscripts. The reviewers are always objective, comprehensive and accurate. Observations supported with evidences are clearly formulated, so that the authors may use them for improving their papers. A reviewer compulsorily evaluates manuscripts for their intellectual contents without regard to race, gender, political philosophy, citizenship, or religious beliefs of the authors.

The authors of the manuscripts are always advised that they should ensure that their submissions are entirely their own original works. Fraudulent or knowingly inaccurate statements constitute unethical behaviour and are unacceptable. Any attempt of plagiarism would out rightly lead to the rejection of the submitted manuscript. The authors are usually categorically advised not to ever submit the same work or essentially the same research simultaneously to multiple journals. If ever it occurs one of the same is called back by the author or its publication in Fahmi-Islam is denied forever.
